

Questions - Israelis and Germany:

Do you think that relations between Israel and Germany can be defined as normal relations between countries?

Do you think today's Germany is a "different Germany" compared to the era before 1945?

Do you think that the memory of the Holocaust affects German policy towards Israel?

Do you think Germany should play a role as a mediator between Israel and other countries in the Middle East?

I will now read you a list of countries, and please tell me which one of them, in your opinion, has the most anti-semitism, which is in the second place, and which is in the third place (item presented in random order).

Have you ever been to Germany, and if so - how many times have you been there?

If so, for what purpose were you in Germany? You can specify several purposes.

Please imagine you're in the store to buy a particular product, and the store has products made in different countries. Which of the following sentences best describes your decision?

Is hearing the German language in the public sphere (TV shows, guest speeches in the Knesset, plays) something that bothers you, personally?

Have you been exposed to contemporary German culture, such as literature, film, music, television, sports, etc.?

Do you have any friends or family living in Germany?

Which of the following sentences are closer to what do you think about Israelis living in Germany?

Do you think that for the foreseeable future the memory of the Holocaust in Germany will German Chancellor Angela Merkel made a decision years ago to take in refugees in Germany. Do you think this decision is ...

Angela Merkel stated in 2008 that Israel's existence is in Germany's national interest. Do you expect this approach to be adopted by the new government in Germany as well?